

Studio Etiquette

It is a remarkable privilege to be a part of your dancer's life, and to provide them with their dance education. The benefits of dance are endless, and their lives will be changed forever.

Many life lessons, life skills, long lasting friendships and so much more develop from it!

Have fun, become involved with our studio, follow us on our social media platforms, and take the time to enjoy this experience as much as your dancer! As we settle into classes, we wanted to remind you of a few policies and proper studio etiquette.

We thank you for choosing Accent School of Dance.

CLASS OBSERVATION

Only one parent/guardian should be accompanying dancers ages 7 & under.

- We have found that our younger dancers succeed more in class without the hallway distractions.
- If you think your dancer will come into the studio on their own, we strongly encourage that independence!
- Please only bring siblings if absolutely necessary.

BREAKS BETWEEN CLASSES

Dancers may stay in the studio for breaks that are 45 minutes or shorter.

- If watching an electronic device, or listening to music, bring headphones.
- If having a snack or quick dinner, please be respectful of the studio and clean up after yourself.
- If dancers/parents cannot abide by the above, they will not be permitted to stay in the studio during breaks.
